

A TO Z OF SUMMER....

L is for ... lips

Even when the weather is overcast, the clouds are rolling in and you're STILL wearing opaque tights the sun is forcing its way through the cotton wool sky.

Skin experts say you should wear SPF15 skin protection on your face even in the depths of winter (never mind in the summer!). Lips are especially vulnerable as they get licked, windswept, bitten and even perhaps kissed... This little pink lip tin from Superdrug (£1.29) will keep lips soft all year long and includes SPF15 for added protection (from the elements, not from those kisses).
